		Four boys have been employed at Pantmawr Farm today to help in gathering potatoes. I sent a letter to the farmer informing him of his illegal act in employing school boys during school hours. I received a reply this afternoon with an apology for his employing the lads. He complained of the shortage of labour and the times being abnormal. The farmer thought that allowance should be made.	24 Hyd 1918	272

		Miss Smith has been sent here on temporary duty from Hawthorn Mixed School which is closed owing to influenza.	7 Tach 1918	274
		Great excitement prevailed at school this morning. The Church bells chimed and the boys soon came to the conclusion that the Armistice had been signed by the German representatives. As we had been misled by a false report of the signature of the Armistice on Thursday evening - 7th I sent a message to the local postmaster who confirmed the signing of the Armistice as official. The boys were informed of the good news which brings the actual fighting of the Great European War to a close and great enthusiasm was shown. We did not try to restrain their energies for the last half hour and about 5 minutes to 12 the whole school was assembled in the yard when the Doxology and the National Anthem were sung. Cheer after cheer was given for such glorious news and the boys dispersed. School reassembled after dinner. The Chief Education Official was telephoned to, but no holiday could be granted. The matter would be referred to the Education Committee which was expected to meet on the morrow (Tuesday). The boys were reassembled on the yard in the afternoon and led by a scout with a small drum marched around the yard waving flags and singing various popular songs. The significance of the act of the signature of the Armistice was explained to the boys.	11 Tach 1918	275-6
