General Information

Maendy Congregational Chapel is located off the A4222 Maendy Road from Aberthin to Ystradowen; near to Trerhyngyll. It is situated on the other side of Cowbridge to Llanblethian.

The Chapel was built in 1802 and was in use until it closed. Planning consent was granted in 2008 for conversion of the chapel into a single dwelling.

Llanblethian village sits on the River Thaw and is part of the community of Cowbridge, with Aberthin and the market town of Cowbridge. It takes its name from Saint Bleiddian; 'church of St Bleiddian'. Llan means church in Welsh.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. On the enemy advancing on the village, the officer in charge and an NCO became casualties in attempting to get the first gun into action. This NCO finding it impossible to get a gun into action at the same spot, returned and got the remaining two guns in action in another position. He continued to control these two guns until all the ammunition was expended and then personally went four times across a road swept by machine gun fire in order to procure ammunition. On being ordered to withdraw he got away three guns and brought them into action again later. His gallantry and determination were worthy of the highest praise.
